Funding College: 5 Steps Every Family Can Use to Build a Successful Plan

Presented by: Dan Bisig

When it comes to paying for college, every dollar counts, and families need a simple process to follow. In this terrific webinar, college expert Dan Bisig will share five steps every family can use to build their funding plan. Dan will share the most popular funding options available so that parents are equipped to have the "money talk" with their college-bound children. To access this webinar, go to www.espyr.com, log in, click on "webinars" and select the featured webinar.

Our webinars now have an enhanced process. Each month, the webinars are released in a recorded format and users may submit relevant questions throughout the month. All answers are posted alongside the recording by the subject matter expert. This new process allows all participants the convenience of watching the webinar "on demand" any time after publication.
